

Chicago, is the chosen President of the Commissioners.

ROCKVILLE sent a full company to the war in the 14th Connecticut, and there has been the most intense anxiety since the Antietam battle to hear from the company, and great wonder felt why the 14th seemed to be so nearly ignored, while the other Connecticut regiments were daily reported. As we yesterday explained, it has been almost impossible to get a word from the 14th. Co. D, the Rockville company, suffered very severely, losing 21 men in killed and wounded. Many of the best citizens in the place are in the company, and a deep feeling of sympathy is felt for their sufferings. The following is a list of the killed and wounded in Co. D:

Killed.—Henry Tiley, Russell Griswold, Wm. P. Ramsdell—3.

Wounded.—William Corbitt, Henry Corbitt, Sam. Talcott, Henry Talcott, Loren Griswold, John Abbey (severely), Joseph Stafford, Chas Waldo (slightly), Henry Orcutt, Thomas Wilkie, Abner Bowers (slightly), Geo. F. Sloane, James Henderson, Alfred Taft, Henry Hospoky, A. Gross, Charles Vantine (in head), Geo. Colburn (badly in leg).
